

GANGLAND KILLING TAKES LIFE OF WELL KNOWN CHARACTER

MY MANDEL, KNOWN TO POLICE AS "SUGAR KING," SHOT TO DEATH

ATERTON, N. J., Dec. 12.—(P)—A gangland slaying of Sammy Mandel, known to police as the "sugar king," sent officers on a manhunt today, aided by a provided by a semi-mythical woman.

Mandel was found dying last night on a sidewalk outside the woman's apartment by neighbors who hear two shots and her screams for help. They saw two men disappear in an automobile.

The woman, booked as a material witness under the name of Anna Callie, alias Kelly, was standing beside Mandel's prostrate form.

Mandel, with two bullet wounds in the back of his head, died while en route to a hospital. Miss Callie was unable to answer police questions coherently at first, but later the police pieced together this story:

Mandel and Miss Callie arrived at her apartment about 10:30 p. m. from an auto ride. In the apartment, she said, was her brother, Frank, and a short time later a man she identified only as "Pete," a New York acquaintance, was admitted.

"I want some 'alky,'" she said. Pete told Mandel, who then went out with Frank to fill the order. Pete remained behind.

Shortly afterward, she said, the doorbell rang and as she opened, a strange man pointed a revolver at her. He entered, followed by another armed man.

The two then proceeded to rip up the telephone wires, lamp cords, wire connections for a vacuum cleaner and the radio, and bound her and Pete in the bedroom.

Men Kept Silent. The men, she said, went on with their work, without saying a word. Then the doorbell rang again and one of them opened it. In walked Frank, who also was forced into the bedroom. He was about to be bound, she said, when the doorbell rang once more.

One of the gunmen opened it, then turned quickly to his companion and yelled:

"Come on, let's go!" The two departed without binding Frank and a short time later, Miss Callie said, she heard one shot.

Frank freed her and Pete, cutting the wire cords with a pair of scissors they left and she ran out to the sidewalk, where lay Mandel's form.

Detective Captain James Smith sent detectives to hunt for Pete, Frank and the two gunmen.

Mandel had often been arrested during the prohibition era and since. Before repeal he was known to authorities as a purveyor of sugar for the manufacture of illicit alcohol.

Thomas Rice, in charge of labor negotiations for the Galveston maritime committee, said that so far as the committee was concerned the strike was not over. He added that various committee members planned to continue work with non-union men.

Non-I. L. A. workmen were rushed back to Galveston yesterday to handle cargo on lines which had not reached an agreement with the union.

PLAN TO BRING EIGHT MILLION METHODISTS INTO ONE CHURCH AFTER 100 YEARS SEPARATION

By HAROLD D. OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(P)—A plan to bring 8,000,000 Methodists together into a united church after more than 100 years of separation was disclosed in detail for the first time today.

A judicial council with power to rule on the constitutionality of church conference actions is an important part of the plan. The council's functions would be somewhat similar to those of the supreme court.

The council idea is incorporated in a "plan of union" to consolidate the three main denominational groups of Methodists in this country under a new name—the Methodist church.

The plan recently was ratified at Cincinnati by representatives of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant church. Details were announced today by Dr. Harry E. Woolever, secretary of the joint commission of Methodist union.

Every representative at the Cincinnati conference, Dr. Woolever said, "expressed the belief, that after 70 years of negotiation commencing soon after the close of the civil war, the steps were about consummated to make a new church for the people called Methodists under the title, 'The Methodist Church.'"

Before the plan can go into effect it must be approved by the general conferences of the three denominations. Two of these meet next May and the Southern church two years later. Then the local churches must ratify through annual conferences. Church leaders are certain of ultimate approval. The plan calls for unity among more than 8,000,000 communicants throughout the world, a Sunday School enrollment of nearly 6,000,000 and a Methodist "constituency" of over 30,000,000. It embraces one-half the communicant Methodists of the world.

It provides for the administration of the merged church through a general conference, meeting every four years, and jurisdictional conferences which divide the membership in the United States into six areas and the work outside the United States into a series of control conferences.

While the new name drops the word "Episcopal," Dr. Woolever said it had been agreed that the church "shall be Episcopal in government and administration."

The plan declares "the articles of religion shall be those historically held in common by the three uniting churches."

The plan also provides for a uniting conference with power to "harmonize and combine" regulations, rituals, and other activities.

The jurisdictional conferences will exercise considerable local autonomy, including the election of bishops, who will be the principal presiding and administrative officers.

Dr. Woolever said: "This event, it is believed by the leaders in the movement, signals the most epochal event in American church life and in Protestantism since the reformation."

Ranch Foreman
Dragged Death
By His Horse

ALBANY, Dec. 12.—(P)—Tangled in his own rope and dragged by his frightened horse, Gabe Beauchamp was found dead today on the W. H. Green ranch, his body brush-torn and battered almost beyond recognition.

The ranch foreman, evidently had roped a calf and dismounted to tie it when his horse bolted, the rope whipping tight around his arm. The other end was fastened to his saddle horn.

When the riderless horse, still saddled, returned to the ranch corral ten miles south of Albany late yesterday, 50 men turned out to search for Beauchamp.

This morning the body, with clothing ripped to shreds, was found in the 4,500 acre ranch pasture where it had come to rest after the running horse had broken loose from the rope. The rope end still was tight around Beauchamp's arm.

Beauchamp, 35, was ranch foreman for Roy Parks and Foy Proctor of Midland.

LEAGUE

In a secret session, Eden and Premier Laval of France gave the committee only a rather vague outline of the proposals.

The French premier told his colleagues the league "must now decide," and declared the Franco-English plan had but one goal, to end the war within the framework of the league.

M. Komarnicki of Poland told the committee the nation opposed the adoption by the body of any new measures which would be calculated to aggravate the international situation. His remarks were regarded as an illusion to the project to fix a date for the placing of an embargo against oil shipments to Italy.

Komarnicki insisted the time had come to place the world problem which the league council which he declared would be convened as soon as possible.

Earlier in the day, Poland and Turkey refused to take responsibility, as members of the council's committee of 5, to handle the Franco-British plan and, consequently, the league council was driven to submit the whole problem to the council which, it was understood, might meet Saturday.

Meet Again Friday. It was the committee of five which drew up the league's peace plan which the Franco-British plan would supplant.

The next meeting of the committee of 18 will be tomorrow morning and in the meantime the delegates will consult on the new plan for peace.

The British and French delegates indicated they would endeavor to obtain a postponement of the fixing of a date for oil sanctions.

British sources said the peace proposal was made entirely "out of court" and reiterated the acceptance of all three parties concerned—the league, Italy and Ethiopia—was necessary to it.

The British insisted press reports of the plan were somewhat exaggerated but admitted the exact details still have to be fixed in and much depends on what is inserted.

Plan Denounced. The Journal Des Nations denounced the plan, declaring Premier Laval and Sir Samuel Hoare British foreign secretary, had committed a crime against the world's confidence in the league.

Rumblings of a League of Nations rebellion against the Franco-British program for peace between Italy and Ethiopia became distinctly audible among delegates today at the opening of the sanctions committee of 18's session.

Many states took a firm stand two farmers who found the body, W. R. Massie and C. N. Hopkins would make some agreement to share the rewards.

peared at Ada Nov. 19. His body, unclad and badly decomposed, was found yesterday by two farmers in a grassy gully near Lindsey.

The funeral was set for this afternoon at the First Baptist church.

Doctors who examined the body said Evans had been shot once under the left arm. X-ray pictures disclosed no fracture of the skull.

C. C. Stephens, president of the Lions Club, announced the $250 reward offered by the club for the finding of Evans' body would be paid to "the proper parties." Other civic organizations had posted another $250 reward. It was held likely the against major concessions to Italy at the price of any impairment of Ethiopia's sovereignty or weakening of the league covenant and the collective security for smaller nations against aggression.

"Incredible," the same word U. S. Senator Borah employed in criticizing the peace plan, was heard in private characterization by delegates of some points of the project, reported to be based on an exchange of territories between Italy and Ethiopia.

Soviet Russia and Turkey, which opposed the original league peace plan as too favorable to Italy, adjudged aggressor in the East African conflict, were expected to combat openly any plan granting additional concessions to Italy and dismembering Ethiopia.

League Plan Rejected. The previous plan advanced by the league committee of five, providing principally for international development of Ethiopia, was rejected by Italy's Premier Mussolini.

A Geneva spokesman for Il Duce, while advancing no prediction of Italy's reply to the present peace offer, said nevertheless he anticipated that no time would be set for an extension of war penalties during discussion of the proposals.

With the Ethiopian government already having announced at Paris its firm opposition to any settlement which would "reward Italian aggression," representatives of Bulgaria, Finland, Czechoslovakia, and the Scandinavian nations were expected to join the protest against any sacrifice of Ethiopia or league principles.

Some delegates said they saw in the Franco-British program the beginnings of a move to establish openly a definite domination of great powers, perhaps in the form of a four-power pact with Germany to join France, Britain and Italy.

League officials themselves appeared vexed because Geneva was not sent the text of the peace offer presented by Britain and France to Rome and Addis Ababa.

Ethiopia Rejects Plan.

WITH EMPEROR HAILE SELASSIE AT DESSAYE, Ethiopia, Dec. 12.—(Havas)—Emperor Haile Selassie rejected today the Franco-British proposals for peace between Italy and Ethiopia.

"The Ethiopian government cites its previous declarations, notably that of Oct. 8, to show that Ethiopia never wished and does not wish war. But today we are bound to defend our soil which Italy has violated."

"Ethiopia agreed at the time of the Paris conference and the meeting of the League of Nations committee of five to all concessions comparable to its dignity, to avoid Italian aggression, but that aggression has been committed."

"We cannot submit to force which we never provoked, because that would be rewarding violence."

NAVAL

varying interests among those three.

French Insist on Rights.
The French objected to the idea of limiting a tonnage agreement to the three powers, insisting on their full rights.

The South Africans, Canadians and Australians were reported to have spoken in opposition to the Japanese demand for equality.

A spokesman for the American delegation asserted the speech of Norman H. Davis, chairman of the United States delegation, in opposition to Japan's proposals, revolved around three main points:

1. Adoption of the plan would cause an enormous increase in construction, rather than a decrease;

2. The proposal did not take into account the different naval needs of the powers;

3. It would upset the equilibrium established by the Washington and London naval treaties, and the United States felt no change had occurred in the international situation which was sufficient to warrant a naval change.

Technical Grounds.
The French emphasized their objection to the Japanese demands was based on the grounds that all powers should have a voice and rights under any general agreement, it was understood.

They asserted they were excluded from previous consideration when the limitation treaties were drafted.

Informed persons said the conference would resume sessions tomorrow, when discussions along the same lines would continue and the Japanese would answer numerous questions.

Authoritative sources denied an early rumor that a gentleman's agreement had been discussed whereby Japan would be granted nominal naval equality—instead of having the minor position in the present 5-5-2 ratio—but would pledge not to build its navy to full strength.

Defense Ships.
It was understood the French raised the question of whether a common upper limit of naval tonnage would apply only to ships which the Japanese classify as aggressive, making no restriction on tonnage of defense ships.

Although the French joined in the general opposition to rejection of the Japanese demands, a spokesman for the French delegation said the outlook was not regarded as black.

"From out point of view," said the spokesman, "nothing very serious happened today."

Observers took the remark as indicating that the question of a common upper limit, which involves Japanese parity with Great Britain and the United States had not necessarily been completely discarded.

arrive at an estimate. With variable factors in the law, it was likely, he added, no definite calculation could be determined until the law became operative.

The old age pension bill, enacted this fall, to become effective Feb. 14, stipulated payments should start by July 1.

Only revenue provided, however, was three-fourths of the liquor tax, which the governor objected to for several months. Indefiniteness of the liquor tax income also made uncertain, he said, how much funds would be available for administrative purposes.

Discussing the possibility the session date was uncertain, Governor Allred said:

"I think we should make definite recommendations before asking the legislature to create new revenue for old age pensions. It appears it will be difficult to determine the needs before operation of the law."

AIRLINER

The landing gear was torn off but the plane did not overturn. The plane was badly damaged but the occupants, Cline, Bishop, Ervin Burns, Los Angeles oil man, and Co-pilot George Farnham, were only shaken up.

The mail was brought to the Childress postoffice and the passengers started to their destinations in another plane. Cline was en route to Wichita Falls and Burns to Houston. Both pilots are Dallas residents.

A government inspector hurried to the scene for an investigation. Pilot Bishop said the fact that the plane was made of metal was largely responsible for the lucky escape of the passengers. He also said they remained calm, aiding in a safe landing.

Cline commented that he "wasn't scared much," and "believed the pilot knew what he was doing."

Neither pilot would offer an opinion as to the possible cause of the motor breaking loose from its moorings.

Pilot Bishop lives in Dallas and Co-pilot Farnham was transferred to Dallas recently from Kansas City.

CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD ON SOY BEANS IN CORSICANA

LARGE ATTENDANCE IS EXPECTED FOR REGIONAL MEET IN JANUARY

A conference on soybeans covering farm production, milling, and industrial uses will be held by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce for its 70-county region at Corsicana, January 14-15, at the Navarro hotel. Plans are being made to care for a large crowd by local Chamber of Commerce officials.

W. E. Ayres, director of the Mississippi experiment station, will discuss the place of soybeans in the farm program of the South. For 16 years Mr. Ayres has had the Mississippi experiment station doing work on soybeans. The Mississippi station has done more experimental work on soybeans than all the other experiment stations in the South combined, it is claimed.

J. I. Morgan, president of the National Cottonseed Products Association, Farmville, North Carolina, will discuss the milling of soybeans with present cotton oil mill equipment. For several years Mr. Morgan has been crushing soybeans successfully in his cotton oil mill. Cottonseed crushers from all over the Southwest are expected to attend the Corsicana conference to hear Mr. Morgan.

Many manufacturers of soybean products have promised to have exhibits of their products at Corsicana during the conference. These products will include parts of automobiles, paints, glues, rubber substitutes, foods, and livestock feed. Several of the exhibits have been received, and others are reported en route.

OIL PAINTING OF W. P. McCAMMON IS PRESENTED SCHOOL

PRESIDENT OF CORSICANA SCHOOL BOARD HON- ORED BY TEACHERS

A large oil painting of W. P. McCammon, president of the Corsicana public schools' board of education, was unveiled at an festive chapel exercise at 11 Monday afternoon in the school auditorium. Painted by Miss Annie Mae Sandwick, Corsicana artist, the picture was presented to the schools by the teachers and unveiled by Miss Sallie Evans. It was accepted on behalf of the board of education by N. Suttle Roberts.

Mr. McCammon was elected a member of the board on April 6, 1919, and in April, 1922, was elected president of the board, in which capacity he has served since that time.

He has been actively identified with educational, religious and civic interests of Corsicana for a number of years; he has served as a director or official of the leading civic social service and social clubs and has been particularly active in the promotion of fraternal and church work. Mr. McCammon is a native son of Corsicana; formerly he was engaged in the lumber business but at present is head of the Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home, and is a director of the State National Bank.

Progressive Program. During Mr. McCammon's service as a member of the board of education, Corsicana's school building program was initiated and completed. In the past 10 years, eight new modern school buildings have replaced the shacks and tumble-down structures of the previous decade. In the present depression Mr. McCammon has shown real courage in fighting against unreasonable and unwarranted retrenchment, while at the same time he has done all in his power to encourage and secure every possible economy.

All students of the junior and senior high schools and all teachers of the public schools attended Monday afternoon's exercise.

On the stage were Mrs. Sara McCammon McElwath, Mrs. Jimmie McCammon, Mrs. W. P. McCammon, Miss Annie Mae Sandwick, Miss Sallie Evans, Mr. Roberts, Luther A. Johnson, Mr. Sheriff Luther McCollum said Hickman's appointment was approved yesterday by the commissioners court, which also allowed him another full-time deputy sheriff, Henry Kirchenbauer. Both deputies will draw the same salary and have equal rank, Sheriff McCollum said.

Hickman, colorful peace officer and rodeo judge, was asked to tender his resignation on Dec. 1 by the Texas Public Safety commission. He was born and reared here and began his career as a peace officer as a deputy constable here in 1909.

His recent dismissal stirred state wide protest that resulted in a legislative investigation of the public safety department by a committee of three house members. One of the committee members is John A. Atchison, Jr., of Gainesville.

Miss Evans asked Mr. McCammon to stand by her and the unveiled picture as she said simply and quietly "because of their love and appreciation for you, Mr. McCammon, the teachers present this picture of you to the schools." At that time she pulled the cord removing the veil from the picture. Applause lasting several minutes followed.

Mr. Roberts said in accepting the picture "I am happy that the teachers of this school system have shown their appreciation for Mr. McCammon's efforts for education in Corsicana x x x he finds more time for youth of this community than any man in town and we believe he is the best board executive in Texas x x x we hope for you, Mr. McCammon, many, many more happy and active years.

Miss Sandwick was presented and said she had gotten more pleasure from working on Mr. McCammon's picture than any she had ever worked on.

Mr. McCammon said in part: "I've enjoyed dedicating my life to the schools and the work has meant much to me whether I've done a good job of it or not."

W. P. McCAMMON
President Corsicana School Board

would like to spend the last hours of my presence on earth in this auditorium, but would not have a word spoken, I would just like for it to be remembered that the teachers were so thoughtful to place my portrait in this auditorium. I'm most thankful for my home, friends and neighbors, and next to the members of my family come the school children of Corsicana and the teachers in our schools. For whatever part you played in this afternoon's occasion, I want to thank you."

Others seated on the stage were recognized by Superintendent Norwood, and the exercise was closed with everyone singing "The Eyes of Corsi," dedicated to Mr. McCammon.

Tom Hickman Is Appointed Deputy Sheriff of Cooke

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 11.—(P)—Tom R. Hickman, until 11 days ago, senior Texas Ranger captain, was appointed a deputy sheriff of Cooke county today. ## TEXAS OFFICIALS PLAN RELIEF OF NEEDY UNTIL MARCH

FINAL FEDERAL GRANT OF MILLION DOLLARS WAS RE- CEIVED ON TUESDAY

AUSTIN, Dec. 10.—(P)—Texas officials today outlined a budget for direct relief to the unemployed through next March by use of state funds after receiving a final $1,000,000 federal grant to care for employables the remainder of this month.

John F. Wallace, member of the board of control, the state relief agency, said approximately $2,000,000 state funds had been reserved through the fall to continue aid to unemployed until spring.

In addition to the final federal grant, he said about $400,000 other federal funds were on hand for general relief purposes which would provide aid for employables the remainder of December.

All employables will be dropped Jan. 1, he said, regardless of whether or not they had been transferred to the works progress administration.

In addition to $1,000,000 for general relief, the final federal grant included $464,876 for other purposes.

"We hope to start next year with $2,500,000," Wallace said. That will be budgeted through January, February and March for work relief.

Without the additional federal grant, Wallace said work relief would have been dropped immediately. Necessity for carrying work relief after their transfers to WPA rolls rose from semi-monthly pay days of the new agency.

Allotments for the first half of December were based on a case load of 128,000, Wallace said, while the commission hoped transfers to WPA would reduce it to less than 100,000 this month.

He calculated the load drop to 50,000 or 60,000 when all employables were dropped Jan. 1. Even with the reduced load, allotments "must be spread mighty thin" to carry relief until spring.

"We argued with the federal government all along we ought not to end relief in mid-winter," Wallace said. "When they insist on that plan, we saved back our state money. That is the reason we can now continue aid to work relief until spring."

The final allotment by Harry L. Hopkins, federal administrator, was: General relief, $1,000,000; works progress administration, $400,000; transfers, $200,000; education, $107,000; WPA additional, $100,000; vocational rehabilitation, $3,609; and reimbursement research program, $2,267.

State Reserved Funds. Adm. R. Johnson, state relief director, was unable to say immediately how long the funds would carry direct relief. He previously had explained the state had certain reserve funds to continue aid for unemployed.

"This grant is the final allotment to the state," the governor said, "and is intended to meet all obligations now outstanding or to be incurred in the future."

"No further funds will be made available by the federal emergency relief administration and they will be able to recognize to further claims for relief expenditures nor will they be able to meet any over-commitments for relief which may appear in state relief accounts. These are now the responsibility of the state."

The governor transferred the funds to the Texas relief commission division of the state board of control.

DALLAS MAN HELD CONNECTION WITH ROBBERY EFFORT

TOMMY M'CLURE TAKEN FOR LONG RIDE AND HELD AFTER CHECK REFUSED

Charges are scheduled to be filed Monday afternoon against a Dallas man for assault with intent to rob Tommy McClure, connected with the Drane and McKee garage who was searched by the man after getting into the car to hunt for a local physician to endorse a check tendered in payment for repairs to his car.

This announcement was made at the criminal district attorney's office Monday. Further investigation into the case is being made.

The accused man was arrested at the Holmes street bridge in Dallas by Dallas police on advice of local officers.

According to the version of the affair by the victim and officers, the defendant brought his car into the Drane and McKee garage for repairs. A bearing had burned out.

A check for $9 was presented McClure who turned down the check and then the accused man is alleged to have offered to go to a local physician for endorsement or get the physician's personal check. The proposal was accepted by McClure and they left in the car but were unable to find the physician. Later, the defendant took the wheel and started toward Streetman, but in the meantime searched McClure.

Arriving at Streetman, McClure was ordered to remain quiet and he would not be harmed and the car was locked with McClure inside while the defendant went into a store.

McClure Escaped. Returning to Corsicana and searching again for the physician, McClure escaped when his captor went into a store. McClure notified Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd, giving him the license plate numbers of the automobile.

Deputy Sheriff Floyd said that the accused man stopped at Wilmer at a filling station, posing as a Dallas doctor, and hired Urschel Blissett, son of H. A. Blissett, nightwatchman at Wilmer, formerly of Navarro county, to drive him to Dallas. Blissett was arrested by the Dallas authorities but was released after Floyd arrived.

McClure left the garage with the man shortly after 6 o'clock Monday night and did not return until about 9 o'clock.

Investigation by local officers revealed that the defendant had

FROM FIRST OF ALL PULPITS CAME NEWS OF TEARS AND JOY *

Fashion of Preaching From High Wooden Pulpit Was Inaugurated In 444, B. C., By Ezra The Scribe—Profound Effect Upon Jerusalem of The Expounded Law.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

So far as records go, the first pulpit ever built and used was set up in 444, B. C., in a broad place near the water gate of old Jerusalem. It was made for Ezra to use in a great festival of Bible-reading and Bible exposition. Before the day was done the occasion had turned into a religious revival, with the people alternately weeping for their sins and shouting with joy over the new light that had come to them. Billy Sunday, and the other famous revivalists, could point to this high day in Old Testament history as their warrant for mass emotionalism.

The time was ripe for a revival in Jerusalem. Under Nehemiah's great leadership the walls had been rebuilt and foes driven off and civic life re-established. Yet something essential was lacking, and the people knew it. Their inner, spiritual defenses were still weak. The real inheritance of the Jewish national life, which made them a distinctive people, was the Law of Moses. So the people themselves called for this great day of Bible exposition.

Out of Seclusion. For twelve years Ezra seems to have dropped out of the Jerusalem story. Whether he had gone back to Babylon, or had remained in seclusion in Jerusalem, is unknown, probably the latter. The man who had made himself to reading and study may be undergoing the most potent experience of his life. Scripture puts the loud pedal down hard upon the necessity for preparation. Moses, Elijah, Jesus, Paul, all had long years of seclusion as they were being made ready for their great tasks. So it doubtless was also with Ezra. We should like to think that there are called young men today who in silence and perhaps in suffering, are getting ready to lead the world's fateful tomorrow. What somebody is now thinking is what mankind will be doing a generation hence.

Ezra is a special friend of mine. Like him, I am a scribe, and no priest. And like him, I give my days and nights to thoughts of the Scripture, and its meaning for the present time. And I also, following his example, seek to make plain the Law of God, and to "give the sense" so that it may be understood by the ordinary person.

Back Of Recovery. On the surface of this Lesson lies the truth for the times. Nations have gone to the limit of their powers in recovery and reform. Nevertheless, the air is filled with contradictory and jangling voices. Confusion of counsel characterizes our era.

Our real need is identical with that of old Jerusalem, in a period of recovery. We should leave the Law of God—the Law that made us a nation. A vast vogue of Bible study—especially appropriate on this four hundredth anniversary of the translation of the Bible into our mother tongue—would put mental clarity, moral purpose, social justice and brotherly good into the present program. No reconstruction measure conceivable would have the effect of a general revival of Bible knowledge, through church and Sunday school attendance. Kipling's words recur to me:—

"Hold ye the faith, the faith our father sealed us,
Whoring not with visions, over-wise and overstate.
Except ye pay the Lord, single heart and single sword,
Of your children in their bondage shall He ask them treble tale."

REGIONAL SOY-BEAN CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD IN CORSICANA

Announcement of a regional soy-bean conference embracing all the territory included in the East Texas Chamber of Commerce for Corsicana on January 14-15 was made at the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning.

Secretary A. F. Mitchell reported that one of the features of the conference would be the all soy-bean meal, in which a number of the synthetic products of the vegetable would be presented.

Under the head of traffic and transportation the secretary reported that Highway 22 had been placed on the "high pressure" list of the State Highway department and every effort was being made to rush the project to a completion. Concerning reports of a new road from 75 to the northern part of the county, it was pointed out that little hope was held for a designation at this time because of the numerous gaps remaining in the present cardinal system.

A financial report of the Santa Claus spectacle was presented showing that a small surplus would probably remain after all expenses had been paid and it was directed that this amount should be held to the credit of the trade extension committee for future activities. A resolution was passed extending the thanks of the chamber to those assisting in the work.

The Lions' club charity show on Friday night was called to the attention of the directors. Resolutions were authorized to the Mexico football team on its success, to the Odd Fellows Home on its success, and to the Corsicana Civitan club and co-operating clubs on the annual Tiger Loyalty Banquet.

Resolution. The resolution on the assistance in the Santa Claus campaign follows:

WHEREAS, several citizens and organizations contributed liberally of their time and means in making the Santa Claus Spectacle of December 7th an outstanding success in spite of very unfavorable weather conditions;

AND WHEREAS, these services could not have been secured for any monetary consideration; THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of Directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce through resolution express their thanks and appreciation to the following:

1. To the Corsicana Daily Sun and Semi-Weekly Light for columns of publicity, and generous support of the Santa Claus campaign in addition to their usual co-operation with the chamber activities;

2. To Fred M. Allison for use of his garage as accommodations for the traveling unit, and for his assistance in making the parade a great success.

3. To Fields C. Paul, finance chairman, for his untiring efforts and ultimate success in securing the necessary financial support for the campaign.

4. And to all of the others who contributed either financially or of their services to the success of the event, including the Corsicana High School Band and Pep Squad, the State and Odd Fellows Homes, the

INCOME, HOUSES AND HEALTH

The possession of wealth in any given case does not guarantee long life and good health, but a good income in nevertheless an important factor in the prevention of disease. In a discussion of "Current Trends in Public Health Work," the scientific director of the Milbank Memorial Fund stressed the need of good housing, economic security and medical care in the maintenance of a community's health.

People may understand the saving qualities of early diagnosis of disease and prompt treatment, but when they can't afford to hire a physician or buy medicine or health equipment, how can they act upon their knowledge?

If poor housing breaks down resistance and breeds disease, how can anything short of good housing prevent disease?

Public health work at the start consisted principally of cleaning up filth, insuring pure water supply, and so on. It has broadened greatly in recent years with health clinics and dispensaries and much health education work in schools. If it is going to take up now the problems of economic security and housing, it may give new strength and support to the groups already seeking their solution.

JOBS AND JOB INSURANCE

The New York job insurance law, says a member of the State's Department of Labor, has one feature which, so far, is unique in the United States.

It unites the state public employment service with the unemployment insurance administration.

On the one hand, there is the comptroller, who is in charge of collection of contributions from employers and payment of benefits to workers. On the other, there is the placement unit, with a network of offices covering the entire state, registering all applicants for benefits and endeavoring to find jobs for them. In registering as applicant for unemployment benefit, the worker at the same time exposes himself to any suitable job which the placement unit may have open.

In most cases the worker would rather have another job than the unemployment benefit. The New York system ought to further stabilization of employment and thus reduce the total amount of insurance payments. That, in turn, will make the cost of the insurance lower for employer and for consuming public alike.

Men have gone about as far into the stratosphere as they can, but not high enough to get answers to the scientific questions raised. Small balloons carrying scientific instruments are being used.

If the building industry were as busy today as the motor industry there would be broader prosperity and less unemployment. There will be when the consumer gets as much in beauty, efficiency, service and comfort for his construction dollars as for his motor dollars.

SHORT-SIGHTEDNESS

When skies are fair and joy is night,
'Tis then a fellow should remember
To put a little firewood by
For all the days of bleak December.

When days are pleasant, wise is he Who holds his roof and wall to-

So stoutly that secure he'll be

So when man's heart is free from care,
Knowing there's no escape from sorrow,
Should he not then himself prepare
To brave that difficult tomorrow?

If having nothing set apart
To serve some future need is What fool is he who leaves his

Against the hurt of grief de-

MEN AGAINST TANKS

The northern Italian army in Ethiopia appears to have made a pretty good record, on the whole though its progress lately has been slowed by difficult terrain and stronger resistance. As for the southern army, the actual accomplishment seems slight. The Ethiopians' chief of staff in that region, Wehib Pasha, a Turk who defended the Dardanelles with distinction in the world War, openly professes his scorn of the enemy and craves action.

There has been no major action, he recently told Laurence Stallings. The Italian troops have advanced over the plain but cannot take the plateau. There, man for man, he thinks, they cannot compete with the natives in the only kind of combat possible.

"They will, of course, multiply our casualties," says Wehib Pasha. "We cannot expect to rout them without losing many men. Tanks? Suppose they bring a hundred tanks. Very well! That is a thousand men assigned to each tank. Out of our thousand, it is true that some hundred may be casualties. But in the end we shall have the tank."

The natives seem to have learned the trick of tackling those motor-forts. The lumbering tanks, manned by gunners firing awkwardly through port holes, are only dangerous at a distance. Many are killed in rushing them, but natives getting close can take them, killing or capturing the Italians inside.

"When this is over," says Wehib Pasha quietly, "Italy will have ceased to count in the Moslem world." Will she have ceased to count in the African world and the European world? We wonder.

PROSPERITY-MAKING INDUSTRY

Figures on the part that automobile production plays in other industries are instructive. The motor industry consumes 75 per cent of all rubber imports of the United States, 70 per cent of all plate glass, 57 per cent of all malleable iron, 40 per cent of all lead, 40 per cent of all the nickel, 20 per cent of the steel (more during 1935), 15 per cent of all aluminum, 3 per cent of the cast iron, 13 per cent of the tin and 12 per cent of the zinc. In nice round figures, it also consumes annually 500,000 bales of cotton, 10,000,000 gallons of paint, 30,000,000 yards of upholstery cloth, 35,000,000 pounds of mohair and padding and 500,000 feet of lumber.

If the building industry were as busy today as the motor industry there would be broader prosperity and less unemployment. There will be when the consumer gets as much in beauty, efficiency, service and comfort for his construction dollars as for his motor dollars.

AROUSED AGAINST CRIME

The head of Chicago's Crime Commission says his city is no longer the crime center of the United States. That disagreeable distinction he assigns to New York, which may or may not be just. At any rate, crime conditions really have changed a good deal in Chicago in recent years. The chief cause for the improvement has been "the constant pressure of an aroused public opinion, keeping criminals on the move and keeping the law enforcement agencies on the job."

Chicago does not stand alone in the fight against crime. J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, reports for the whole country a steady decline in murder, robbery, auto theft and some other crimes. In 70 of the country's larger cities, figures for the first three months of the last three years show murders decreasing from 785 in 1933 to 734 in 1934 and to 686 in 1935. Manslaughter cases, more numerous in 1934 than in 1933, dropped in 1935 to 440, the lowest figure of the three years. Auto thefts were 35,742 in the 1933 half-year, 32,509 in 1934, and 30,276 in 1935.

The "pressure of aroused public opinion" has unquestionably been a big factor in cutting the amount of crime, although it probably has not been the only factor. Publicity should be given to the work of all agencies dealing with crime and criminals so that every effective method of crime prevention work, in juvenile courts and elsewhere, may be upheld and strengthened.

A lot of community funds, too, have been engaged in successful refunding operations.

The technique of business control is understood better than it used to be. When a boom threatens to bust, the doctors give it a dose of reform.

Those Japs certainly have a sense of humor, the way they go around setting up "autonomous" governments in other people's countries.

Many idle people might find some useful employment right around the house, fixing up things.

For a downtrodden industry, the electric power business seems to be getting right peart.

As between "production for profit" and "production for use," this country wants both.

MILITANT MINNESOTA EDITOR DIED AS HE HAD JUST PREDICTED*WALTER LIGGETT ASSASSINATED LAST NIGHT AS HE DROVE NEAR HIS HOME

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 10.—(P)—The assassination he predicted in the last issue of his weekly newspaper today had overtaken Editor Walter Liggett, stormy petrel of Minnesota politics and bitter foe of Governor Floyd B. Olson.

A killer in a darkened car last night fired five bullets into Liggett's back as, accompanied by his wife and 10-year-old daughter, Marda, he drove into an alley near his home.

Liggett, his arms full of groceries and with a pistol in his pocket, fell dying as his daughter cried, "Don't die, daddy, don't die." At police headquarters yesterday Liggett sobbed, "I will remember the killer's face as long as I live." The police held Isadore Blumenfeld, alias Kid Cann, for questioning in the case after he submitted voluntarily for examination. He was exonerated a year ago with an investigation of the passing of ransom money from the $200,000 Charles F. Urschel kidnapping case.

Blumenfeld, identified by the police as connected with the liquor business here, said he was in a barber shop shortly before the killing and could not have reached the scene in time to fire the fatal shots.

Also under investigation was a telephone conversation which Detective Captain Al Marxon said Liggett had yesterday with Meyer Schulberg, president of a liquor distributing company. Marxon said Liggett informed Schulberg he was writing a series of articles of Schulberg's activities. He said Schulberg bet the editor $500 he was wrong in his premises and suggested Liggett give government operatives his evidence if he thought it was true. In a formal statement to police Schulberg said Liggett demanded $1,500 to "lay off."

Blumenfeld said he was introduced to Liggett by Mrs. Annette Fawcett, divorced wife of magazine publisher Billy Fawcett, shortly before Liggett was severely beaten by unknown assailants in a beer parlor two months ago.

Acquitted of Grave Charge. Soon after, Liggett was acquitted of criminal charges involving two minor girls. He branded the charges a "political frameup."

Howard Guilford, 48, publisher of the weekly Saturday Press, an anti-radical publication, was slain Sept. 8, 1934, six blocks from the spot where Liggett died.

Liggett was former director of publicity for the North Dakota Non-Partisan League, deputy commissioner of the state of North Dakota in 1919 and a New York free lance writer.

In 1928 he published "The Frozen Frontier," first of several books. The latest issue of his paper said he might be killed, and demanded impeachment of Gov. Olson of graft charges.

He was born Feb. 14, 1886, in Benson, Minn. His present wife was his second wife, and he had a brother, Robert, St. Paul advertising executive, survive.

Bodies Sixteen Miners Brought Surface Today

COALHURST, Alta., Dec. 10.—(P)—The bodies of 16 men, victims of the first major tragedy in the half-century of coal mining in the Alberta foothills, were brought to the surface today and the work of identification started.

J. Andrews, in charge of mine rescue work for the province, simultaneously began an investigation of yesterday's explosion in the Lethbridge Collieries Limited mine.

In addition to killing 16 miners, caught just as they were going on duty with the night shift, the blast sent three others to the hospital. Fourteen escaped.

ties of the national re-employment service, and a majority of them should be placed by the end of the week, according to information received Tuesday.

Although a number of the projects are located several miles from Corsicana, a large portion of the workmen will be recruited from the Corsicana relief rolls because most of the smaller communities have exhausted their list of employables on relief.

The new requisitions will result in the total employment of 880 persons in the county, or about 60 per cent of the number reported on the relief rolls. A number of projects are yet to be finally approved and will supply work for additional persons; in most instances the state headquarters have approved the jobs but final orders have not yet been issued by district officials for various reasons.

Among the requisitions approved recently were 30 workers for Levee District No. 10, ten workers for Levee District No. 11, four for the tax survey now under way, 15 workers for Levee District No. 4, and 49 workers for Levee District No. 8.

DIES SUGGESTS WAY CIRCUMVENT COURT DECISIONS*WOULD USE CUSTOMS RECEIPTS TO PAY FOR AGRICULTURAL CONTROL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(P)—Rep. Martin Dies of Orange, Texas, suggested today use of all customs receipts for subsidy payments to farmers since "it seems the supreme court will invalidate both the agricultural adjustment act and the Bankhead cotton law."

Under the amended AAA act approved by the last congress, 30 per cent of these receipts were earmarked for the crop program. Comptroller General McCarl has approved allocation of 60 per cent of this total for cotton subsidy payments alone. Customs receipts last year were about $300,000,000. Agriculture department officials have estimated tax collections at about $60,000,000 monthly and have been attempting to balance AAA payments with these collections.

Dies said neither President Roosevelt nor congress could divert these receipts arbitrarily to the farmer's pockets but he proposed a congressional appropriation equal to a year's receipts.

"This source of revenue could be retired through a number of sources," the Texas said. "One of the best and quickest ways would become apparent if the administration would balance its budget by cutting down all these new deal bureaus and agencies. This scheme of using customs receipts or their equivalent will be the only thing the President will have left after the supreme court acts, unless he wants a sales tax, and I don't think congress would vote such a thing."

"In this way, the consumer no longer would pay the tax, as it is called, and it would be shifted to the foreign producer and manufacturer."

Between 6 and 7 o'clock a reception will be held on the twelfth floor of the hotel in the Governor's suite, and members of the state supreme court and members of several courts of civil appeals will be the honored guests.

ANNUAL FORECAST OF CANDIDATES IS MADE BY PARKER

MANY WILL SEEK OFFICE NEXT YEAR ACCORDING TO VETERAN PROGNOSTICATOR

The following annual forecast of candidates by W. T. Parker, veteran local political prophet, has been handed in for publication, and while Mr. Parker does not guarantee it to be absolutely infallible, he feels that the general trend will be shown by the forecast:

To The Corsicana Daily Sun: The year 1936 will be long remembered as the turning point, with nations, with states, and with the governments of the whole world—a world war or a lasting peace. In this land of ours the hungry millions must be fed, a distribution to all of the bounteous production of our land that is so great that cotton has to be plowed up, hogs and cattle destroyed, wheat and other products of our land reduced because of the great surplus. The year 1936 brings on one of the greatest political contests of all times. We are to select officers from President of the United States down to precinct officers. Here are the principal events and a great many of the possible Democratic candidates for 1936.

The Republicans will nominate their strongest man. With Roosevelt and Garner as our national standard bearers I am quite sure it will be another great victory. We cannot stop, a change of the administration now might mean worse than civil war—it might be revolution.

Presidential Primaries. May 2—Primary elections will be held to select delegates to a county convention.

May 5—A county convention will be held to select delegates to a state convention.

May 26—The state convention will be held to select delegates to the national Democratic convention.

June 1—Candidates will file their applications with the state executive committee for state offices. Also district candidates will file on this date with the district chairman for district offices.

June 8—State executive committee meets to certify state candidates to county chairmen, and select a place to hold the state convention.

June 14—Last day for county and precinct candidates to file to get their names on the official ballot.

June 15—County executive committee meets to assess candidates and to determine order of names on the official ballot.

June 22—Last day to pay assessment to get their names on ballot.

June-July—County and precinct candidates (winners and losers) must file their expense accounts not less than 25 days nor more than 30 days. Another, not more than 12 days nor less than eight days prior to the primary election, and another 10 days after the primary with the county clerk, and another 10 days after the November election with the county judge.

July 25—Primary election day. August 1—County executive committee meets to canvass the primary election vote.

At Cottondale, Texas, 57 years ago next election day, I cast my first vote. Very few voters of that day are alive at this time. I hope that every voter will get a polltax receipt and will vote.

If your name is on the above list, and you are not a candidate, your friends want you to be. If you are a candidate and your name is not on the list, it is your fault. You should have hunted me up and you would have been on the list as a grand and glorious Democrat.

GOVERNMENT READY TO REST BANKHEAD COTTON ACT CASE

ILLNESS SOLICITOR GENERAL REED HAD INTERRUPTED ARGUMENTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(P)—The Justice Department appeared ready today to rest in defense of the Bankhead Cotton Act before the Supreme Court on its printed brief already submitted.

This would mean its abandonment of the oral arguments interrupted yesterday when Solicitor General Stanley Reed became ill. Reed had planned to proceed today, but remained at home instead.

His illness at the close of two tense days of defending the administration farm program before the high court, prompted the consideration of letting the government's case stand on the written argument.

It also was learned Mr. Reed, who was expected to remain at home for at least three or four days, would face only one other new deal test in the supreme court before Christmas.

Frank J. Wideman, assistant attorney general in charge of tax cases, will defend the AAA amendments alone, on Dec. 16.

Previous plans had indicated Reed would participate in this case, affecting Louisiana Rice millers, as well as the one involving TVA soon to be heard.

The government still had 45 minutes allotted for argument on the Bankhead case, while opposition counsel had 15 minutes.

Reed had not been on his feet long yesterday when the attack came.

"I'm sorry, I shall have to postpone further discussion," he said as he staggered to a seat and put his hand to his head. Chief Justice Hughes gavel fell, adjourning court 15 minutes early. Spirits of amnesia were palpable to Reed's nostrils and he was rushed home.

Later, Mrs. Reed indicated that he had recovered and was determined to appear today, though a doctor had prescribed a full day's rest.

Earlier in the day, Reed had heard George Wharton Pepper, counsel for the Hoosac Mills of Massachusetts, shout that the AAA, the New Deal's broad crop adjustment program, was forcing the farmer to "sell his freedom for a mess of pottage. Then Pepper breathed a prayer to "Almighty God" to avert "regimentation" of America.

Declares No Control. Warmly Reed replied that there was "no regimentation," no "control." He said AAA—which involves taxes on processors of farm products and a system of benefit payments to farmers who agree then he launched into the next case, involving the Bankhead act. This law, which was not drafted by New Deal farm officials though the government is now defending it, levies a prohibitive tax on cotton ginned in excess of quotas assigned to farmers.

Sharp questioning by several justices preceded Reed's collapse. In effect, Reed raised the question whether the attack by Lee Moor, Texas planter, on the act's constitutionality, is a real lawsuit. He contended the suit Moor brought to force the Texas and New Orleans railroad to transport cotton without "tax paid" government tags attached was a "non-adversary" suit.

Reed said the railroad presented no witnesses in lower courts, and there was no basis or the supreme court to pass on the constitutional controversy.

Not Friend of Court. Chief Justice Hughes held that Reed could not argue that point because it was not his function as "friend of the court." The government, not a party to the case, entered the case on the "friend" basis.

The solicitor general then attempted to argue that the barrenness of the record in lower courts precluded the justices from deciding the issue. He had just started when he became ill.

Questions asked earlier by Justices Stone, McReynolds and Van Devanter indicated the point as to whether the legislation applied only to interstate commerce would have an important bearing in the final decision.

While Henry Eastman Hackney, Uniontown, Pa., attorney, was arguing for Moor, these justices asked specifically whether the legislation applied to transactions within a state.

"It does," the attorney replied. His colleague, Thornton Hardie of El Paso, argued the legislation violated states' rights.

DEATH SENTENCE ASSESSED AGAINST DOGGETT AFFIRMED

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 11.—(P)—The Criminal Appeals today affirmed the death sentence assessed against Clifford Doggett in East St. Louis for the murder of Mary Lou Howell, 19 years on conviction for the transaction.

Down in his St. Louis county jail there were two women. Testimony was given by a woman who said she saw Doggett in the jail.

Attorney General Asks Court Delay Utility Law Case

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(P)—Attorney General Cummings today asked a federal court "for practical and legal reasons" to delay action on constitutional challenges of the new deal's utility law by seven holding companies.

He appeared before the District of Columbia Supreme Court to challenge new order of the government. It was Cummings' first appearance as attorney general before any tribunal but the supreme court.

Reed said the railroad presented no witnesses in lower courts, and there was no basis or the supreme court to pass on the constitutional controversy.

Not Friend of Court. Chief Justice Hughes held that Reed could not argue that point because it was not his function as "friend of the court." The government, not a party to the case, entered the case on the "friend" basis.

BODY OF MISSING SHAWNEE ATTORNEY LOCATED WEDNESDAY

FIRST OF THREE MISSING PERSONS, VICTIMS CHESTER COMER, FOUND

LINDSAY, Okla., Dec. 11.—(P)—Discovery of a body tentatively identified as that of Ray Evans, missing Shawnee attorney, spurred officers anew today in their investigation of the activities of Chester Comer, slain suspect in the vanishing of five persons.

Dputy Sheriff J. P. Mitchell of Garvin county, who was directed to the body by two farmers, said he had "no doubt" it was that of Evans, who disappeared Nov. 19 while en route from Shawnee to Pittsboro to interview a client.

Mitchell was joined in his identification by E. E. McCaughey, Lindsey oil man and client of Evans.

"I just feel the body is that of Evans," Mitchell said. "It has the same color hair and is that of a man about Evans' size. I don't think there is any doubt."

Mitchell said discovery of the body led officers to believe those of three other victims of Comer might be found nearby.

They are L. A. Simpson, Piedmont farmer, his son, Warren, 14, and Lucille Stevens Comer, second wife of the suspect. Comer was wounded fatally by Oscar Morgan, Blanchard Marshall, and died in an Oklahoma City hospital after admitting the deaths of Evans and the Simpsons.

Body First Wife Found. The bullet riddled body of a girl found in Woodward county, Kansas, last October already had been identified definitely as that of Elizabeth Childers Comer, first wife of the suspect.

"The body was that of a man of short stature, weighing about 160 pounds and had thinning red hair like that of Evans," Mitchell said.

The deputy said the body was uncluttered and badly decomposed. He said W. N. Massey, one of the farmers, was attracted to the canyon by dogs that had unearthed the body.

Garvin county officials were summoned to the canyon to hold an inquest before removal of the body.

Mitchell said friends of the missing Shawnee man had been advised the body was found and were enroute here to view it.

Missing Since Nov. 19. Evans, an attorney has been missing since Nov. 19, when he left Shawnee for Pittsboro to interview a client. His abandoned car was found near Mayville, less than ten miles from the canyon where the body was found today.

The car was abandoned by the slain Comer, also suspected in the disappearances of L. A. Simpson, Piedmont farmer, his son, Warren, 14, Comer's second wife, Lucille Stevens Comer, and four Illinois tourists missing in New Mexico.

The body of Comer's first wife, Elizabeth Childers Comer, was found riddled with bullets in Woodward county, Kansas, in October, 1934.

Comer was wounded fatally by Oscar Morgan, Blanchard Marshall. The hitchhiker admitted the deaths of Evans and the Simpsons to E. Smith Hester, McClain county, attorney, before he died in an Oklahoma City hospital.

Badly Decomposed. "The body was badly decomposed and absolute identification will be hard, but I am sure it is

MENDIETA IS FORCED TO QUIT BY POWERFUL POLITICAL FACTIONS

ACTION CLEARS WAY FOR HOLDING NATIONAL ELECTIONS IN JANUARY

HAVANA, Dec. 11.—(P)—Cuba's turbulent political situation precipitated the resignation of President Carlos Mendieta today and catapulted Secretary of State Jose A. Barnet into his office, apparently clearing away obstacles to the holding of the January national elections.

Mendieta, yielding to the insistence of powerful political factions which refused to participate in the elections unless he first stepped down, presented his resignation to the cabinet as a "patriotic duty."

Barnet, 71-year-old veteran of the diplomatic service, automatically became president—the republic's seventh since a revolution caused the downfall of Gerardo Machado on August 13, 1933.

The possibility arose immediately that Barnet might be another of Cuba's "presidents for a day."

After reappointing all members of Mendieta's cabinet, he called the cabinet to order and the republic's state to meet later in the day in a joint session which the law provides must elect a provisional president within 48 hours.

Background of the political conditions, army activity against kidnapers, and a raid on a radio station accompanied the swift turnover in the government.

The officers undertook a close search of the city to free the capital, missing since Monday, and to block payment of ransom, reported to have been set at $300,000—a fund which army leaders feared might go to revolutionaries.

Seven men, some reported to be machine guns, raided radio station CMQ last night and caused equipment damage estimated by authorities at $40,000.

This raid preceded by three hours a scheduled broadcast over United States COCO by Mendieta to the United States on the political situation.

Mendieta abruptly cancelled his talk, called his cabinet into extraordinary session and resigned, but officials said the attack on Station CMQ had no connection with his actions.

Station CMQ officials said they had been ordered by the communications department before the raid to halt a program sponsored by a political party demanding the resignation of Mendieta.

With Mendieta's resignation clearing the atmosphere and Barnet striving to settle affairs of state until the provisional government could be supplied by officers elected next month, United States Ambassador Jefferson Caffery said in a statement:

"As the American ambassador, of course, I have no desire to interfere with Cuba's domestic political processes. My only hope at this juncture is to see a continued Democratic development in Cuba's political life."

The strong Menocalista party, led by Gen. Mario G. Meoccal, twice president of Cuba, was one which refused to participate in elections unless Mendieta resigned.

The Centristas, headed by former President Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, joined in this stand.

The elections originally were set for Dec. 15, to end the provisional status of the government which has prevailed since Machado fled the island and Mendieta finally took office in January, 1934.

Major coalitions formed by some parties for the elections were outlawed by the supreme electoral court in what some political circles called a government coup d'etat to prevent their victory at the polls.

The government called in Dr. Harold W. Henshaw, president of Princeton University, accepted his formula which would have permitted presidential elections to renounce or confirm candidates nominated by the individual parties, and reset the elections for Jan. 10.

The Menocalistas broke openly with the government on this stand, demanding Mendieta's resignation on the ground that he broke a promise to make no alteration of electoral laws without consulting other factions.

That of Evans because it fits his description in every way," Mitchell said.

"Evans had thinning red hair—so does the body. Evans was of short stature. The body is that of a relatively short man."

"Evans weighed about 160 pounds. That's about the weight of the body."

Mitchell said he did not know of any other missing persons sought in this area with the exception of the Piedmont farmer and his son. Their descriptions, he added, were not similar to that of Evans.

Mitchell said discovery of the body launched a new search for the Simpsons.

"We have always thought the three bodies would be found close together and we will search that entire area for the Simpsons," Mitchell added.

WALLACE URGES REDISTRIBUTION OF WEALTH; SAYS AAA HAS NOT PUT LIMITATION ON PRODUCTION

WALLACE DECLARES CANADIAN TREATY WILL AID FARMERS

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—(P)—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace offered his "considered judgment" today that American Agricultural gains from the Canadian reciprocal trade treaty "so far outweigh the losses that the net advantage to our agriculture as a whole is very much worthwhile."

He welcomed constructive criticism, in an address prepared for delivery at the 17th annual American Farm Bureau Federation convention, but declared:

"The other kind of attack—the bitter, venomous kind—is not inspired by any desire to help the farmers of this country. I believe that such unbridled assaults are inspired rather by the same interest which x x x have fought every attempt by the farmers to gain economic fair play."

The agreement, he said, "attempts to undo the terrific damage done by the Smoot-Hawley act." Under that tariff act, he said, agricultural exports from the United States to Canada shrank from $100,000,000 annually to $40,000,000.

Of American concessions to Canada on agricultural products, he said that "in none of these cases are imports in prospect that will have materially adverse effects upon American producers."

Canadian concessions on meats and meat products duties, he said, will open the way "for our farmers to get back a bigger share of the British pork market."

"The new agreement will permit American pork to go to Canada to replace Canadian pork exported to Great Britain, thus in effect permitting increased exports of American pork to Great Britain."

He claimed important benefits to fruit and vegetable growers through Canadian concessions and said there would be "substantial gains" for United States grain growers.

"Farmers of the United States will unquestionably gain from the increased exportation of manufactured products to Canada," he said.

"Suppose that exports of these products are increased by $300,000,000—a conservative figure in view of our trade with Canada in the past—and that half of this amount, or $150,000,000, goes into payrolls."

SECRETARY AGRICULTURE ALSO TAKES OCCASION TO CRITICIZE HIS CRITICS

MORGENTHAU DENIES SILVER PURCHASES HAVE BEEN STOPPED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(P)—Secretary Morgenthau today denied the United States had stopped purchasing silver and asserted he had bought the metal every day this week.

"I am continuing to carry out the mandate of the silver purchase act," Morgenthau said. "I have bought silver every day this week—on Monday, Tuesday and on Wednesday, in many different places."

It was on Tuesday the London silver market collapsed because of a lack of buyers. Brokers attributed this condition to a treasury halt in purchases.

Morgenthau said the department had departed from its usual practice of concentrating purchases in London, but refused to locate this week's purchases. He declined to say whether this departure would be continued.

Likewise he would not say whether any direct purchases were made in China.

New Talking Picture To Be Shown

Greater Farm Profits and Getting the Most from Tractors Are the Subjects of Two New Sound Pictures to Be Shown by Local Implement Dealer.

A. T. Smith local farm equipment dealer will hold open house for the farmers of this vicinity to see the new talking motion picture, "Sheppard and Son," a sequel to "Partners," shown last year. He will be aided by representatives of the John Deere tractor organization.

Farmers in other localities, who have seen the picture, declare it to be a short course in modern farming, with new and better ways of doing things, new ways of saving money, new methods to increase crop yields.

The picture is a continuation of the story of Mr. Sheppard and his son, Dick, who made such a hit last year. A feature of the picture is the trip through the ten great John Deere factories and shows you how modern agricultural implements are made. The picture also takes you out into the fields to see how each of these machines operate and what it will do.

On the same program will also be a picture, "Murphy Delivers the Goods," a service picture which shows you how to get the most from your John Deere tractor, with animated drawings of the working of the motor and cooling system. This picture is declared to be decidedly worth while, and suggests many helpful hints in adding to the economy and satisfaction to be derived from a tractor.

The meeting will be in session from 8 o'clock to 5 o'clock on Monday, Dec. 16 in the A. T. Smith building in Corsicana.

"We invite every farmer in this section to be our guest and we particularly want the boys to come," says A. T. Smith.

"We are planning to make this a social affair, but at the same time a very worth while one to farmers and their families. We are counting on a big crowd coming in to enjoy the big day with us."

John Deere Day is proving exceptionally popular with farmers as evidenced by the picture above which shows an interested group at one of these meetings.

ART OF THE MANICURE.

MANICURE AS AN ART
The fine points of manicuring are told of today in Miss Forbes' Beauty Chats, as every girl can be her own completely expert manicurist.

You need have a manicure only once a week, and if you are clever you can save your fifty cents and do it yourself at home. I will give you the process step by step, and if you follow it you will be thorough enough with your finger nails. You want to have all your manicure implements spread out in front of you.

E. K. Forbes

First, of course, remove all nail enamel, then reshape the ends of the nails with a flexible file or an orangewood stick. Then soak your fingers for a minute or two in the hot, soapy water. Then wrap a bit of cotton around the orangewood stick, dip into cuticle remover and go around and under each nail. With your cuticle knife scrape off the dead cuticle, clean under each nail and smooth each edge with an emery paper. Now go round each nail with cuticle scissors and clip off all bits of rough skin. Rub with cuticle oil or jelly and let this soak in while you do the other hand.

With each nail made perfect, the only remaining step is to run a nail-whitening string or pencil under each nail, to scrub off the oil and then to give them an extra bleach by wetting some cotton with some strong peroxide and going over and round each nail again. After that you have only to dry them and put on your polish.

Applying polish is the test of the manicurist. If you are not clever at it, make no attempt to use a colored enamel, but buy yourself perfectly clear polish, and give the whole nail two coats of it. It does not matter how much you smear it, nor whether the tip gets wiped off or not. Besides, this clear polish is extremely fashionable and in better taste than scarlet. Mrs. J. C.—You will be able to make a very satisfactory face mask yourself if you wish. Fuller's earth makes a very good base for these masks, and it is bought in any amount at the drug stores. You must moisten it with a liquid until it becomes a paste that is thin enough to rub into the pores needing cleansing. Witch hazel does very well for this purpose, and it also has some astringent qualities. If you wish a stronger astringent, add a few drops of tincture of benzoin. Any powder will absorb all the skin secretions and leave it almost parched when applied in such a mask. It is well to add at least a tablespoonful of some fine oil in the mixture. If your skin feels very dry after you have washed off the mask, use a cream or just plain oil on it. Powdered oatmeal made into a paste, or a ordinary bath powder, may be used in making up a mask if one wishes, but the "earth" is more easily handled, and quite inexpensive.

Mrs. L. B.—You can never get a deep color from sage, but the tea from steeping this herb will be much darker than the usual tan color if the steeping is done in an iron kettle. The sulphur adds a yellowish cast to the tea that strengthens the color somewhat. Before using the tea, wash the face with soap and water. The purpose of adding a slight color to the gray hairs; however, this was incidental, as it was known mostly as a tonic for the scalp and hair. The sulphur was helpful, also, as it is purifying, and it is still being used on the scalp.

FALL WAS BAPTIZED IN CATHOLIC CHURCH IN HOSPITAL TUESDAY

EL PASO, Dec. 12.—(P)—Albert B. Fall, quoted as saying his busy life had caused him to postpone being baptized until his baptism into the Roman Catholic church in a hospital here, remained in a serious condition today. The El Paso Times says the aging former secretary of the Interior, ill with pneumonia since Sunday, was baptized Tuesday by Father Albert Braun, pastor of a Catholic church on the Mesalero Indian Reservation in New Mexico.

Father Braun visited Fall and in conversation asked him whether he had been baptized, the story says.

"No," Fall was quoted as saying. "When I was a young man and came west there were but few churches in this country. Then I became a busy man and that is one of the things I have postponed doing."

Fall's grandfather, the Rev. Phillip Slater Fall, helped form the Disciple of Christ Church and

PROBE

Hanna and hear the other side," he said.
"I think the public wants to know the true facts about the Hickman case and is entitled to them."

Governor Allred indicated that L. G. Phares, chief of the department of public safety, and possibly members of the safety commission would attend the hearing called at San Antonio tomorrow by the committee majority. Chairman Sam Hanna of Dallas and Rep. John Atchison of Gainesville.

No member of the commission was among those Hanna announced he had summoned as witnesses.
Ford called on the majority to complete its inquiry into dismissal of Tom R. Hickman, formerly senior ranger captain and now a Cooke county deputy sheriff. He said the majority stated in floor debate Hickman had made serious charges against some unnamed high state official, but now were quoted as saying the Hickman matter "was of small interest to the committee."

Wants It Finished.
"I am wondering why you have changed your mind about this being of importance," he asked. "I stated this Hickman matter must be heard first, and I now demand that it be finished."

Ford said "common decency and fairness" demanded the commission be heard "and that the public may have the true facts" for asserted department records "show that the commission was justified in dismissing Captain Hickman."

He appealed "in a sense of fairness and in order that the public may have the true facts" for a meeting in Austin and "that the Hickman matter be cleared up immediately before going into other matters."

Because of shortness of notice, Ford said he could not arrive in the hearing. Hanna said he asked Sheriff Albert West of Bexar county to appear and served found the Brown Street Christian Church at Nashville, Tenn. He withdrew from the Church of Scotland with Alexander Campbell to form the new church, which for a time was known as the Campbellite Church.

NEW DEAL

The act, which would outlaw some utility holding firms, divide up others, and regulate the rest. While the government is trying to press this case toward the supreme court, utility firms have brought nearly 50 injunction suits in many courts. In his unusual appearance today, Cummings sought to have the district supreme court stay the suits of seven holding companies until the E. B. and S. case is decided.

In other courts in various cities, government lawyers also are striving to turn back the utilities' legal attacks.

The fight over the new deal in the United States supreme court died away to a temporary lull today after the government had "lost" its defense of the Bankhead compulsory cotton control eral subpoenas, including ones to three night club operators.

To Go Right Ahead.
SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 12.—(P)—District Governor James V. Allred's suggestion that the legislative committee investigating the department of safety come to Austin to give officials a chance to answer charges made against them, the committee will "go right ahead" with its Bexar county investigation here tomorrow.

Sam Hanna, chairman of the three-man house committee, said here today.

Hanna declared that the purpose of the committee's presence here was not to investigate crime in Bexar county, but to carry out its duty in determining "the truth or the falsity of charges that the state department of public safety or its officers and personnel have impeded law enforcement in this state by giving advance information as to the acts of the said department in its law enforcing efforts."

With Hanna was John A. Atchison of Gainesville, also a committee member. The third and minority member, Rep. J. B. Ford of McGregor, has demanded a hearing of public safety commissioners so "the public may be given the true facts."

He asked for the hearing in Austin.

District Supervisor
For Tax Survey Has Moved Family Here

Grady L. Webster, district supervisor for the state-wide tax survey now being conducted by the Works Progress Administration, was in Corsicana Thursday and reported his work well under way.

Mr. Webster has moved his family to Corsicana and is now comfortably housed in the Clay Nash home at 1243 West Fifth avenue.

The supervisor reported that he expected county managers for the work to be named by state authorities within a few days and work would move forward more speedily after that time.

Reporters 4-H Girls
Clubs Meet Saturday

Reporters for the Girls 4-H clubs in Navarro county will hold a meeting in the educational room of the Corsicana Y.M.C.A. Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock according to Miss Ruth McNabb, county home demonstration agent, and director of the clubs.

The agent stated that plans would be outlined for the year's work at the meeting.

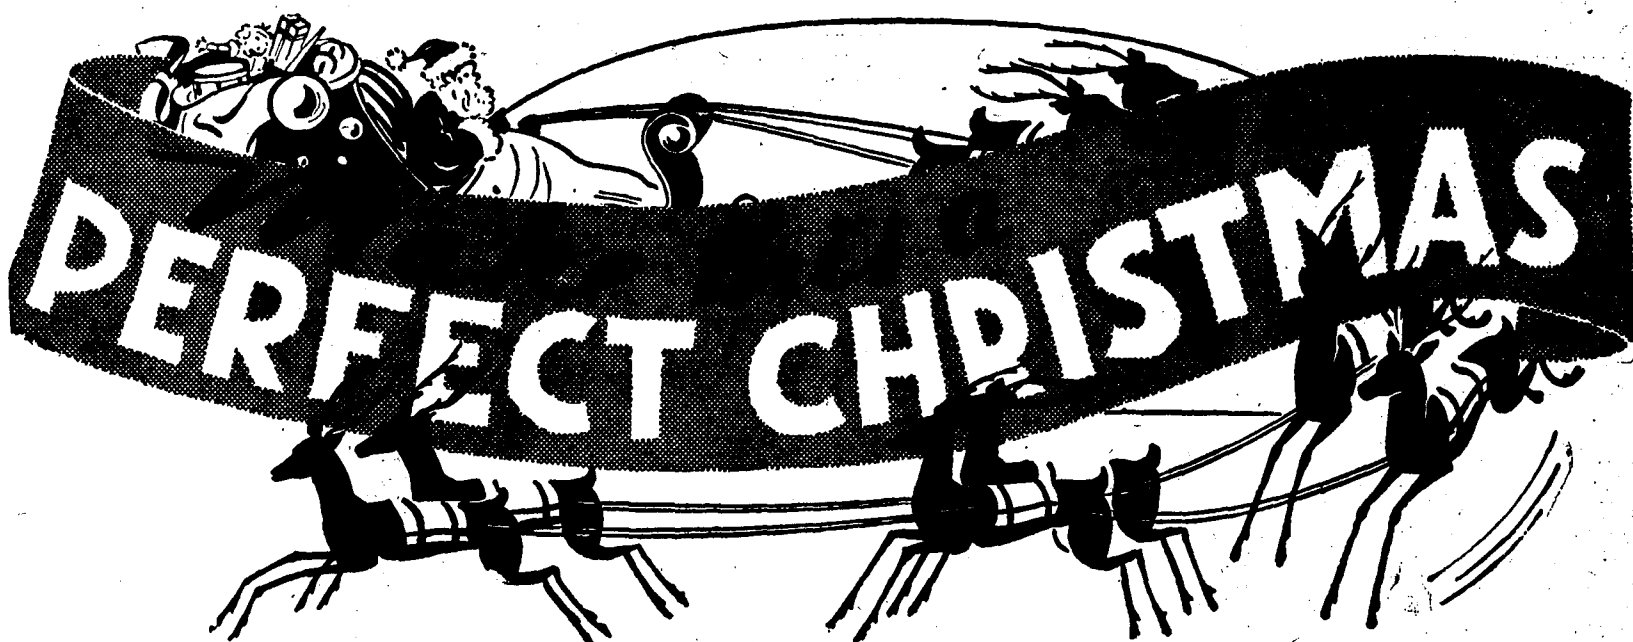

act. Solicitor General Stanley Reed collapsed Tuesday in the midst of his argument for this act, which involves a system of prohibitive taxes on cotton ginned in excess of quotas determined by the secretary of agriculture. Contrary to expectations, Reed was unable to resume yesterday, and the justice department said it would rest its case on printed briefs already filed, without further arguments.

In this case, Lee Moor, Texas cotton planter, is trying to force the Texas and New Orleans Railroad to haul his cotton without "tax paid" tags attached. He contends the act is unconstitutional.

The justice department said: "In the Moor case, the government is not a party and is appearing as a friend of the court. Before Mr. Reed stopped his argument he had presented procedural questions x x x."

"Since" the remaining questions are fully covered in the government's brief x x x the solicitor general believes it is not desirable to request the court to delay the case for further oral argument."
